McGILL DECISIVELY DEFEATED BY DARTMOUTH Freshmen And Sophomores Meet On Track This Afternoon

UNEXPECTED ENTRY LIST FOR INTER-CLASS TRACK BATTLE THIS AFTERNOON

Dowling, Spence and Consiglio, Interscholastic Stars, Are Running Among Large Freshman Entry List — Sophomores Have Michael, Kerr and Darling, But Lack Number of Men — Post Entries May Alter Aspect of Meet — Men Not Physically Examined Warned Not to Run — Meet Starts at 2.15.

At two fifteen this afternoon the starters gun will send the four entries in the high hurdle event down the track to score the first points in the annual track battle between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes. Both teams are ready for the meet and have entered runners who will give what should be the finest exhibition of track work seen at one of these meets in some years. Both contenders are sure of victory and despite the shortage of men in some events there is little doubt that post entries will be made and that none of the points will go uncontested. In the number of consistent track stars the second year seems to have the edge upon the yearlings. Pangman, Michael Kerr, and the two Darlings are the nucleus of the team and offer a fine entry. The second year men have for the most time and all have had enough experience to run various events in a strong manner. The new comers however are more or less unknown. Consiglio is a sure winner and as yet is untested in the pole vault. Without doubt the other teams will enter men to get the second and third points in the event and their effort should be interesting to watch.

The first event will be the discuss in which there are to date but three entries. Pangman alone has to defend the Sophomores but will probably have additional support when the meet starts. In the high hurdles the Darlings constitute the second year entry. With fair weather and a little luck it would not be surprising to see the college record equalled in this feature of the program. The hundred yard dash has an entry list of twenty men, ten from each class. Michael is the star for the second year, while Spence seems to be the best entry from the Freshman list. There is however an excellent chance of an outsider coming in first as some of the new men have been stepping out well. The half mile is another race where the points are uncontested as there are but three entries. Berwick runs alone for the second year. This event should also draw some post entries from the second year. The high jump has eight entered. Only one second year man is among these so that there is danger of the older team losing these points. One second year man is among the seven entered in the shot put. Sixteen men are running in the 220 yard dash. Spence and Michael will again be among the leaders and should be able to make good time. There are fourteen men entered in the broad jump. Most of these are first year men and should get the majority of the points. In the mile there are three Sophomores who will try to lead Ca'der three men event with two second scholars among the three. The low hurdles will be chiefly of interest because of Sophomore entry. Darling the star high hurdler and Michael one of the sprinters on the college team are both entered. The quarter mile has eight men entered. In the three mile grind there are three second year men entered and one freshman. More entries are expected however. The relay teams are as yet not selected but they will be made up at the track this afternoon.

The brief survey of the program shows that the first year are making an organized effort to defeat the Sophomores. They have a much larger entry and have a wealth of sure point winners. In many events they are not even opposed and it is doubtful if the second year will be able at this date to get men out to enter the meet. It should be a close score however and the relay races again be the deciding factor in the meet.

The men who are not running tomorrow afternoon have been requested to turn out for practice in the morning. With the interfaculty meet on Friday there is not much time for these wanting a place on the college team to get into trim and Coach Van Wagner who will be at the track in the morning is most anxious that all the men who are planning to enter the time trial on Friday be out today.

Saturday morning some of the runners were sent through their paces and the results were good. Patterman and Rubin both showed up better than had been expected and with the final weeks training they will make good times at the meet at Kingston. Kennedy who is expected to be well up with the high point winners in the coming meets is also getting back to form. Gaboury was going over the bar in his consistent manner and this pole vaulter should give Francis a good battle in the intercollegiate fixture.

The training table will start at the Union tonight. The men who are expected to be there have already been notified and should be there. This is the first definite step in the selection of a team and owing to the wealth of material has not been an easy one. For this reason the men who are not as yet selected should not feel they have been neglected but they will be given a final opportunity to show their true worth in the interfaculty meet. The list for this meet will be posted soon and should draw a very large group of runners.

Owing to the fact that there are expected to be many guests to commemorate Founder's day, no tickets will be taken at the gate, and there will be no admission charge. As is the well known custom of the track club, the meet will start on time which is two fifteen, and the events will be run off as rapidly as possible.

The officials for the Freshman Sophomore meet are as follows:

LARGE ENTRY FOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Eliminations Start This Morning

START AT TEN

Many Well-known Players Will Make Competition Keen

In preparation for the intercollegiate games, the Annual College Tennis Tournament is opening today, and will continue through the week. The winner of this tournament will become the holder for one year of the Vaughan Cup at present in the possession of W. F. Crocker.

The likely candidates for the intercollegiate games will be picked from their showing in the Tournament and, from an elimination contest to be held immediately after.

As a result of the large entry list, the committee in charge is desirous of completing two rounds of the tournament to-day. In order to do this all players must report fifteen minutes before the time of their game to either of the managers, L. W. Brown or C. W. Leslie who will be at the courts all day. All competitors not on time will be defaulted, for, to insure completion, the schedule must be run through as published.

The following players were seeded, W. F. Crocker, Jack Wright, L. and T. Brown, Stan Perry, C. W. Leslie. Following is to-day's draw.

Winners of two and three o'clock matches will be required to play their games in the second round at four o'clock.

KING 5,000 YEARS OLD DISCOVERED

This will introduce to you King A-an-ni-pa-da, who lived some 5,000 years before the Christian era and whose name had escaped history until the present British expedition excavating the ruins in the vicinity of Ur, Mesopotamia, began work.

Perhaps the most valuable find of all was the foundation of the Temple of Toli el Obaid, about five miles from Ur. In the base of the foundation was a tablet of marble on which was carved the fact that the temple was erected by King A-an-ni-pa-da of Ur to the Goddess of the Mountains.

The Ur exhibit will be divided among the British Museum, the University Museum and the Museum of Bagdad.

CONVOCAION EXERCISES TO-NIGHT

Thirty-nine Candidates Receive Degrees

AT R. V. C.

Representatives From Many Colleges

Thirty nine students, representing almost every faculty in the university, will fall in line to receive degrees to-night at Founders Day Convocation at the Royal Victoria College. Principal Sir. Arthur Currie will deliver the convocation address and also confer the degrees.

The ceremony itself, while not nearly as imposing as similar functions held at the end of the session, will contain its element of dignity. Representatives from various universities in Canada and foreign countries who are in Montreal for the purpose of attending the opening of the Pathological Building are expected to witness the Convocation exercises also.

After degrees are conferred an informal reception will be held and the Hall cleared for dancing. Attendance is limited to holders of tickets which have been distributed in the various faculties.

This completes the programme.

Following is a list of candidates who will receive degrees:

D. D. S.

Samuel Richstone, Montreal, and Jack Topitsky, Montreal.

INTERFERENCE PLAY GAVE DARTMOUTH EASY VICTORY AT HANOVER ON SATURDAY

Green Squad Piled up a Score of 52 — McGill Came Close to Scoring Often — Little, Brown, Bazin and Philpotts Starred for McGill — Dooley, Oberlander and Robinson Were Best for Dartmouth — Dartmouth Have Heavy Well Trained Team.

Before a crowd of nearly seven thousand people, the Dartmouth College Rugby Squad decisively defeated the McGill Senior Rugby Team on Memorial Field, last Saturday by the score of 52 to 0. It was a clean-cut victory for the Americans, who, during most of the game had things entirely their own way. The strange rules proved a serious handicap to the Red and White team, further than this the Green squad were much superior in all departments of the game. The Dartmouth team had a commanding advantage in weight—they were probably fifteen pounds heavier per man—which they used at every opportunity. However it was the interference plays that caused the downfall of McGill. In this department of the game, Dartmouth was supreme. Every play was timed to the fraction of the second, and the Dartmouth line have an interference play that absolutely prevents a man from tackling the runner. In fact, it is almost impossible for the opposing linemen to see the ball carrier at all. The interference play works something like this. The whole line moves down the field bowing over the opposing line and the ball carrier simply runs behind unmolested. The only men who can get near him at all are the secondary defense. The Dartmouth squad also used the forward pass to great advantage, sometimes making as much as 50 yards with this play, although often a forward pass was intercepted by a McGill man. Because of their great interference plays, Dartmouth made yards on the front down almost successively. With Dartmouth in possession of the ball, it was a steady march down the field for a touch.

The McGill squad concentrated their attention on making end-runs and in this they were to a degree successful. The Red and White backs also pulled off some pretty forward passes, which completely surprised the Americans and were good for 30 to 40 yards. However straight bucks generally failed, owing to the solid front of the Green squad.

At three o'clock the Dartmouth College band, consisting of forty pieces marched on the field, and rendered some excellent music that would be worthy of a professional band. Soon after the McGill squad trotted out and were given a great ovation. They were followed by the Green warriors, and seven thousand lusty throats roared out the Dartmouth yell. Dartmouth won the toss and kicked off. Little returned and Dartmouth got possession on McGill's fifty yard line. Then time after time, the Dartmouth backs made yards owing to the help of their great interference play and finally Hall, the Dartmouth back, went over for a touch. It was not converted. Dartmouth 6, McGill 0.

Hughes caught the kick-off and ran back 20 yards. Soon after Dartmouth got possession on a fumble. Again the Dartmouth squad ploughed down the field, making 5 to 10 yards each time. Robinson went over for Dartmouth's second touchdown. Dooley failed to convert it. McGill lost the ball on a fumble again, and again Dartmouth marched down the field. Oberlander went over for the third touch but failed in a field goal in converting. Dartmouth was making yards practically at will and had the ball most of the time. Little and Bazin were bringing down the Dartmouth men, as the first line could never get near the ball carrier to tackle him. Bazin brought down Oberlander with a neat tackle from behind after he had received a 45 yard forward pass. It was a nice play on the part of the McGill quarter. Dartmouth fumbled and Philpotts fell on the ball and soon after the quarter ended. Dartmouth 15, McGill 0.

The second quarter began with Robinson, Hall and Oberlander making yards consistently. Oberlander went over for the fourth touch. Dooley then ran 30 yards on an interference play. At this point nine Dartmouth men were changed. Dartmouth had about 45 or 50 men in reserve on the bench. Dooley failed in a field goal and McGill got possession. McGill made their first yards soon after. Bones then threw a 20 yard forward pass to Philpotts which brought loud applause from the crowd. Little failed in a field goal and Dartmouth in turn failed in a forward pass. The period ended soon after. Half time. Dartmouth 24, McGill 0.

Hanna caught the kick-off and ran back 20 yards. Parker blocked Hughes kick and Dartmouth got possession on the 15 yard line. Dooley threw a forward pass to Tulley for a touch. The play saw-sawed and when Dooley kicked, the McGill back fumbled. Bjorkman falling on the ball. Dartmouth then made a wonderful criss-cross play and Oberlander ran over the line for a touch. Dooley converted it by a field goal. Dartmouth 37, McGill 0. Soon after, Bones pulled off one of the prettiest plays of the afternoon. Little intercepted a forward pass and ran 20 yards. There was only one man between Little and a touch, but the Dartmouth back succeeded in bringing the McGill captain down. The quarter ended with Dartmouth 38, McGill 0.

Dartmouth pulled off another forward pass, Oberlander to Robinson, which resulted in a 25 yard gain. Little brought down Robinson. On an interference play Robinson made a touch, which Dooley converted by a field goal. Dooley was doing some nice kicking. Dartmouth fumbled but recovered, and Robinson made a 25 yard run in converting the touches. Oberlander Hughes and McCombe brought down Robinson after he had run 25 yards. Robinson threw Dooley a forward pass which Dooley caught over his shoulder with one hand running at full speed for a touch. It was the prettiest play of the afternoon. Dooley kicked a field goal to convert. Hughes ran back 15 yards when Dartmouth kicked-off. Little threw Gordon a forward pass that was good for 20 yards. Philpotts made 20 yards more on an end run when he received a pass from Little.

Hughes kick failed but the ball was recovered. The game ended soon after. Final score Dartmouth 52, McGill 0. The teams lined up as follows:—

FRESHMEN WARNED TO MIND RULES

Arrangements Complete for Fresh-Soph Fray

Yesterday at the meeting of Arts-Commerce '28, the freshmen completed their plans for Monday morning at the stadium.

Duckworth, the Sophomore President, advised the newcomers to adhere to the rules recently laid down by the Student's Council. If these were properly respected, all would be well, but if any freshman set these precepts at defiance, the sophs would see to it that he would regret it.

Kerr, the president of Arts '28 also advised his comrades to adhere to these rules, which he read for the benefit of those who were in ignorance.

At the conclusion of the meeting the freshmen were distributed to their present upon payment of a nominal fee.

It was arranged that the freshmen meet outside the Arts Building at 10 a. m. today, at which hour the Sophs will gather at the Union, prior to proceeding to the stadium for the big afternoon event.

The freshmen have been instructed to wear a white handkerchief on the right arm, in order that no mixup may occur, so that all together if all turn up and instructions are followed, the affair should go off without a hitch.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NOW ON AT R. V. C.

Entries Are in and Play Starts To-day

All entries for the R. V. C. annual tennis tournament are now in, and Miss Anderson is eighteen years old and only recently moved to Minneapolis with her parents from La Crosse, Wis.

"I won't do it again for a year," she said.

Margaret Anderson, freshman, entering the University of Minnesota this fall, and graduate of La Crosse high school, La Crosse, Wis., was arrested for speeding and given a sentence of fifteen days in the workhouse by Judge Levi M. Hall recently when a motorcycle cop testified that she was speeding 40 miles an hour down University avenue.

Her appeal for probation, at first refused, was granted when friends interceded. She is on probation and will not be permitted to drive a car for a period of one year. Miss Anderson, also of La Crosse high school, was motoring with Miss Anderson when they were arrested.

OXFORD AND OHIO TO DEBATE ON FRANCO GERMAN RELATIONS

When the Oxford University, England, debating team meets the Ohio State University team October 10 in the University Chapel, Malcolm MacDonald, son of Ramsay MacDonald, British premier, will endeavor to convince the audience that France has adopted the wrong policy toward Germany since the war.

The Oxford debaters—J. D. Woodruff, M. C. Hollis, and M. E. MacDonald—are making a world trip and will participate in debates in 30 universities and colleges throughout the United States. They are graduate students and are former presidents of the Oxford Union, recognized as one of the oldest and most prominent debating societies in England.

Harry P. Jeffry, C. Emory Glandner, and Frederick W. Pride, and Clifford James as alternate comprise the Ohio State team which will take the negative side of the question. Resolved: "That this House Condemns the Policy of France Toward Germany Since the war."

This is the first debate in which Ohio State men will have contended with international speakers. It will also be the first debate broadcasted by the University radio station.

The Oxford style of debate will be used. This is a method similar to that employed at the Penn State debate last year and which enables the audience to ask questions and to decide the debate by a final vote.

FOUNDER'S DAY.

No more appropriate and significant ceremonies than those which are taking place to-day, could have been devised to honor the memory of the founder of McGill University. The opening of the Pathological Building this afternoon followed by the Graduation Exercises this evening are both symbolical in their purpose of the ideals which must have actuated the Hon. James McGill when by generous bequests he made possible the foundation of this University.

The Pathological Building is a monument to the men of vision who seek through research to alleviate the sufferings of mankind. It forms an invaluable addition to the group of imposing edifices which bear the name of McGill, and typifies the spirit of progress in intellectual advancement and material growth which have characterized the history of our University.

The training of men and women to be good citizens was the guiding motive of one who gave largely of his own time and fortune for the public good, and this principle McGill has kept paramount through more than a century of existence. Those who graduate to-day will not be unmindful in their hour of success of the great debt which they owe to those who have given them the means of enjoying the fullness of life through the ideals of service which they have formulated as a consequence of the broader training which they have formulated as a consequence of the broader training which they have been privileged to secure.

There is no more fitting tribute which we as undergraduates can render to the founder of our Alma Mater than by realizing his intent through an assiduous application to duty and faithfulness to the code of conduct which have won for McGill an enviable reputation among universities.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

The honor of victory on the gridiron was claimed by the Dartmouth senior rugby squad Saturday. That victory was decisive. By a system of interference plays, which were at times bewildering to the Canadian visitors, the American college team credited themselves with a decidedly high score. Dartmouth is to be congratulated for its splendid victory. On the other hand, there are no apologies necessary for the defeat of the local athletes. They fought hard. They gave their best in the struggle. With that we are content.

To-day freshmen and sophomores meet in a friendly combat known as the "rush." While participation in it is entirely voluntary, it is expected that a representative group of students will line up with opposing forces. Otherwise the contest may fall flat. In its first introduction as a substitute for hazing it is to be hoped that freshmen and sophomores will co-operate in bringing the "rush" to a successful completion.

ARIZONA SPECIMENS HAVE NOVEL FOOD

How to get rid of a recalcitrant husband without entering the divorce courts is answered by the seven "Black Widows," new members of the University of Minnesota. Seekers for marital bliss are referred to the seven specimens of the Latrodectus spider, "The Black Widow," who solves the problems by eating her husband. Companions of the carnivorous creatures are two deadly poisonous Gila Monsters whose only food is hen's eggs. Exceedingly feminine co-eds would beware of a tarantula as large as a mouse, twelve centipedes each six inches long, horned toads, and desert lizards.

All these specimens were sent during the summer from the Richardson Stadium on Friday, Queen's seniors, Dominion champions, defeated Royal Military College, intermediate champions, by the score of 31 to 0. Queen's completely outclassed R.M.C. from start to finish, despite the fact that they used many substitutes. Leadley was one of the bright stars of the game, but the feature was the playing of Chantler, who tore off several brilliant end runs. Batstone was hurt at the opening of the third quarter and had to be carried off. Smith and Tre they were too tight to hold the heavy Queen's line in check.

VICTORY FOR QUEEN'S IN OPENING GAME

Batstone Hurt in Opening of Third Quarter

Kingslon.—In the opening game of the rugby season at the Richardson Stadium on Friday, Queen's seniors, Dominion champions, defeated Royal Military College, intermediate champions, by the score of 31 to 0. Clerk: What do you intend to mistake it for?

R. V. C. UNDERGRAD. SOCIETY.

First meeting will be held in the Common Room on Wednesday, Oct. 8, at 1 p. m. It is requested that all R. V. C. students, particularly newcomers, will make an effort to be present.

R. V. C.

There will be a meeting for all those interested in Daily reporting, on Tuesday, Oct. 7th, at one o'clock, in Room 12. A list has been posted on the R. V. C. notice board for all those to sign who will volunteer for reporting work. It is especially hoped that a large number of the First Year will sign up.

LOST

On Friday 3rd a Conklin's fountain pen. Please return to F. D. Taylor or "Bill", janitor of Arts Building.

R.V.C. '28.

There will be a meeting of R. V. C. '28 to-morrow, at 7.30 p. m., in the Common Room. Please try to be present and have all nominations ready, as there is a long list of officers to appoint, and the meeting is very important.

Pres. R.V.C. Undergrad Society.

R. V. C. '27.

There will be a class meeting to-morrow, in Room 2 of the R. V. C. at 1 o'clock. A large attendance is requested, as very important business is to be discussed.

McGILL MUSICIANS.

Two positions are vacant in an orchestra which is being newly organized to fulfill a contract with one of the leading hotels in a well known summer resort next season. A violinist, and a tenor banjoist or cornet player, preferred, though other instruments (barring pianist) would be acceptable.

Students looking for a vacation with social activities, golf, tennis, etc., together with a good salary, and board at the hotel, if desired, will please apply immediately, in writing, to: J. N. A., Faculty of Arts.

NOTICE.

Track practice will be from 10 to 12 this morning, for men not entered in the Freshman-Sophomore meet.

PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY CEREMONIES

Scheduled to Start at Half-past Three

NOTABLE EVENT

Prominent People to Take Part in the Procession

This afternoon at 3.30 p. m., in the presence of a notable gathering of educationists and public men the latest addition to the medical group of buildings at McGill will be officially declared open.

Meeting at the Redpath Library the officials and others taking part in the ceremony of the opening of the Pathological Building will form into a procession which will wind its way up McTavish st., along Carlton Road and down Pine avenue to the Pathological Laboratory.

In case of rain, the procession will form in the Redpath Library with the head at the door and the body of the procession around the South and East sides of the hall.

It is intended that the participants walk two abreast, stewards being on hand to marshal them, and notice boards facilitating the placing of each section.

The following is the order of the procession:

Delegates,
Demonstrators of faculty of Med.
Lecturers of faculty of Med.
Clinical and asst. Professors of faculty of Med.

Associate Professors,
Secretary to Principal, Bursar, and Registrar.

Professors of Affiliated Colleges,
Associate Professors and others who are heads of departments.

Professors,
Fellows of Corporation.

Professor, Head of Department,
Deans.

Vice-Principal,
Platform Party.

Principal and Vice-Chancellor,
Lieut. Governor.

He: "I've a great mind to rock the boat and frighten you."
She: "Once before a young man like you tried that with me and the boat upset."

"And what did you do?"
"I swam ashore and notified the coroner."

JUNIORS IN FIRST GAME WITH LOYOLA

Loyola Piled up Big Score at Outset

SCORE 15-0

Junior's Defeat Was Largely Due to Lack of Practice

McGill Juniors opened the rugby season here when on Saturday they dropped their first game to Loyola College by a score of 15-0. A good crowd attended, despite other important games taking place in this city. Lack of team work and lack of practice were responsible for McGill's defeat. At the outset of the game, the Loyola team confused the red and white with their peculiar shifting plays, and before McGill could recover, Loyola had commenced to pile up the score.

McGill won the toss and elected to play with the sun at their back. Britt ran 30 yards and brought the ball to the McGill 10 yard line, but the maroon and white could make no headway and McGill kicked to safety. Loyola began by a series of plunges to work their way down the field, but fumbled and McGill secured possession. The first quarter ended with the score 0-0.

Altimas ran 30 yards bringing the ball to McGill's one yard line. Britt broke through for a touch which was not converted. Score 5-0.

Loyola forced McGill to rouge and after four minutes play, rouged again. Score 7-0.

Vineberg replaced Thompson who was injured. Seward ran 30 yards but the half-time whistle prevented further scoring. Score Loyola 7, McGill 0.

Play lagged in the 3rd quarter but at the opening of the last quarter, Cannon ran 60 yards for a touch which was converted. Score Loyola 13, McGill 0.

Shortly after Loyola forced a rouge making the score 14-0.

There was no further scoring till the close of the match when Loyola kicked to the dead line. Final score Loyola 15 McGill 0.

For the winners Britt, Cannon and Altimas showed up well, while "Giny" Thompson was the best of the losers. The line-up was as follows a full holiday for all students in the University, so that at least one round of the tournament should be run through if the weather permits.

Each couple must procure a referee and use a score book, the loser of the round must post the result on the notice board list so that the competitors may be classified for the next round.

It is also necessary that each player be on time for her match so that the tournament may be as interesting and as successful as possible, for a win or loss by default is unsatisfactory to all.

Everyone is looking forward with great expectations to the tennis tournament, which is the first athletic event of the season, as interest in the game has been steadily on the increase at R. V. C. for the last few years.

Last year Miss Coral Robertson R. V. C. '24 won the championship after a hard fought battle with Miss Frances Stocking, who had won the event the year before, and who will play again this year.

LOYOLA BEAT SECOND TEAM ON SATURDAY

Game Was Thrilling Despite Score

18-2 VICTORY

Loyola Have a Fast and Experienced Intermediate Squad

The Intermediate fixture between Loyola and the red and white played at the Stadium on Saturday offered more thrills to the spectators than the Junior game did, inasmuch as the teams were better balanced. Loyola was confident of a win and they were not disappointed. Their team were last years Junior champions and therefore were not lacking in experience but they were given a game scrap even though the score was 18-2. With time, McGill's intermediate squad should become one of the best in the league.

The first quarter opened with a rouge for McGill in about three minutes of play Saginua got away in an end run bringing the ball to McGill's 3 yard line. McGill held for two downs but fumbled the kick which was secured by the maroon and white for a touch which was converted from a difficult angle Score Loyola 6 McGill 1. McGill brought the ball to Loyola's 10 yard line but lost it on a fumble.

2nd quarter
The second quarter opened with Loyola making yards down the field by a series of rushes. Sninaga drop-kicked from 20 yards out making the score 9-1.

Bannon ran 25 yards for a touch which was converted. Score at half time Loyola 15 McGill 1.

3rd Quarter
At the beginning of the 3rd quarter Sninaga tried a drop but only succeeded in rousing. Score 16-1.

A few minutes later Loyola roused again. Score 17-1.

A misplay brought the ball to McGill's 20 yard line, but Loyola could only rouse. Score 18-1.

Numerous penalties were handed out to both sides for infringements of the rules during the last quarter. There was no further scoring until the last minute when McGill kicked to the deadline. Final score Loyola 18 McGill 2.

In the Juniors.—Those who turned in a good game were Gilmore at snap, T. ny Thompson quarter, who played on with a wounded knee, and McKay Kendrick and Milligan on the half line.

Intermediates.—Spears at middle carried a good ball, Eric Jones played a fine game at outside, and Joe Cameron and Graeme Gorrie turned in a good game on the half line.

TRIALS OF A FROSH

Darling Mother and Father:—

I arrived here safely and took special care not to get killed or run over, as you said, mother.

When you sent me here, you had no idea I would have to learn a new language. I am making fairly good progress in it, though I find it rather hard.

I was asked yesterday if I was a "frosh." I replied that I was Canadian, and of Scottish descent. One of my eyes is black. How could they expect me to learn the language in one day? The registering clerk asked me if I was a partial, or full student. I was not full, having spent the morning and part of the afternoon waiting in line, and having had no chance to get dinner. I replied that I was only "partial." I afterwards supped at the Union. I am now a full student.

Somebody wanted to know what lab I was going to take. I replied that I would take nothing until I had asked for it. My other eye is black.

While in the Union I was roughly seized and carried up stairs, and asked if I wanted to be a roofer. My ears are deaf. They asked whether I could "jazz round" on an instrument. I said I could milk a cow. A fellow asked me what the use was of a cow in an or-

VARSITY BEATEN IN OPENING O. R. F. U. GAME

Lost to Beach by a Single Point

'Varsity made a great finish in the opening senior O. R. F. U. game held on Friday in Toronto, but for their over anxiousness in the last minute and the arrival of full time might have at least scored an even break with Balmy Beach, but the latter won a close verdict 2 to 1, in their first senior game. If 'Varsity had displayed the dash and class in the first half that they did in the second they would have won, but they took things a little too easy at the start.

The game was of the two bucks and kick style, and there was very little open play. Both teams held well on smashes, the winners making yards the most times. But 'Varsity showed some great tackling and a tricky lot of bucks, which brought the fans to their feet a number of times by side-stepping tacklers. 'Varsity missed several good opportunities, but for a meeting of teams that included a number of players making their senior debut, the game was worthy of senior football.

'Varsity—Sorby, flying wing Trimble, right half; Kirkpatrick, centre half; Reid left half; Walker, quarter; Webber, snap; Stringer and Chaffe, inside; Harris and Dow, middle; Duncan and Teague, outside; Plaxton, Coleman, Breitaup, Bruce, Master, Fraser and Ross, subs.

McGILL ENGLISH RUGBY TEAM BEATEN

Lack of Team Play Partly Responsible

A noticeable lack of team play on the part of the McGill English Rugby team, was exhibited on Saturday afternoon, on the University Campus, when the collegians were overwhelmingly defeated by the—Montreal English Rugby players.

The Montreal fifteen, who were in fine form, seemed to show the benefit derived from previous games this season. The McGill team was playing its first game of the season and this was not able to prevail over the more experienced opponents. The final score showed 28-0 for the Montreal players.

chestra. "Well," I said, "It's got two horns." I was kicked down stairs. A roofer is one who yells. I was a roofer only during initiation.

I dozed during a lecture by a "prof," who seems to be one who talks in monotone. When I woke up I knew nothing about anything. He asked me what I was up to. I wonder what sort of animal a co-ed was. Your hired girl would be a co-ed if she went to college.

Another enquirer asked whether I had a sup. I told him I had supper last night. A sup. is an examination endured by those who fall. Examination comes from the Latin word "exanimis," to exhaust, only the n and m have changed places.

I think a soft (spelt soph.) is one who swoops down on you with intent to murder. Nobody has yet been swooped down upon, but there is a lot of talk about it.

There is going to be a Junior Prom, I thought it meant a school children's parade, but it means a dance. I am not going.

The enquirer wanted to know if I was "in a frat." I said no, but I was pretty mad.

I thought the college had a police force, for I heard the terms P. C. in several places—but P. C. means Presbyterian College, where the ministers learn how to preach.

The words "stude" and "meet" always suggested to me table dainties, but I am a "stude," and have to attend a "meet" very soon.

The letters R V and C pronounced together always suggest infinite sweetness to me, why, I do not know. I told this to a fellow, and he looked sad at me, and said "I had four supps last year—dancing instead of studying." That's R. V. C. for you. I know what RVC means now. It's naughty but it's nice.

Democracy wavers: "This is the band that shook the hand of John L. Sullivan" is supplanted by "This is the man who danced with the girl who danced with the Prince of Wales."

Fable—One there was a taxicab driver who carefully washed his license plates before starting out each morning.

VARSITY DEFEATED OLD BOYS 18 TO 1

Veteran Snyder Displays Fine Form in Kicking

(Montreal Gazette)

Varsity, Oct. 4.—The Newtonized 1924 edition of the Varsity team had a good workout here this afternoon when they defeated the Old Boys by 18 to 1. Captain Warren Snyder scored in all the points through a touchdown four drops, ranging from 20 to 35 yards and kicking and for a rouge just before the game ended. Jack Newton gave all his players a chance to show and while the game at all times was a friendly affair the blue and white hopes for this fall showed sufficient to justify the confidence that has been prevalent around the stadium since the practice season opened. Snyder and Pequegat are a great pair of running halves and tore off a number of runs that promised well for the future. The men tried on the line held well made the necessary holes and above all showed some real tackling. Altogether the annual exhibition of past and presents was a complete success. Teams;

4. In spite of what he may say, every boy over eighteen feels pleased at been taken for younger than he is.

5. The Critic and Creation.—The contention, so ardently championed by producers and authors, that a critic is not qualified to pass judgment on their chef d'oeuvres because this critic has himself never done any creative work which has been better than distinct third or fourth rate stuff, sounds very much to me like the contention that the manufacturer of the Ford automobile is not capable of judging the qualities of a Rolls Royce limousine or a Pierce-Arrow roadster.

6. The Standard of Judgment.—A man will think no less of his friend if he holds different political beliefs or philosophical theories. He will listen with interest to economic schemes which are contrary to his own, and will even good-naturedly tolerate religious principles in what he has absolutely no faith. But let his express an opinion that the girl they have just passed on the street is good looking, who he thinks is not, his estimation of his friend's intellect, his estimation of his friend's intellect will drop many degrees.

7. Autobiographical Note.—I sometimes wish that I had been born either the son of a millionaire or of a struggling workman. A millionaire's son can have all that he wants and do as he pleases; he forms the luxury class. A struggling workman's son is brought face to face with the elemental hardships of life and must fight for everything he gets; he forms the ambitious class. Having been born into the middle division, I have neither the ease and surety of the richer group, nor the determination and eagerness of the poorer group.—R. R. R.

Give lecture on Finger Prints at People's Forum

PALMINSTRY SCORED

Lecture Illustrated by Lantern Slides

A detailed analysis of finger prints and the human hand was made last night at the weekly meeting of the People's Forum of Montreal, in the Church of the Messiah, when Dr. S. E. Whitnall, M.A., M.D., B.Ch. (Oxon) M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., professor of botany in the faculty of Medicine, delivered an address on "The Human Hand and Finger Prints." Dr. Whitnall, in his fascinating discussion of a subject of interest alike to criminologists and students of anatomy, dealt with great emphasis on the positive source of identification that the delicate markings on the human hand are, and with the aid of lantern slides developed the various phases of the subject to an interesting audience. He scored palmistry as being most uncertain, stating that the lines of the hand had no more to do with the life of a person than the creases on his coat at the fore-arm.

Briefly passing over the human hand and its development and service to the body, Dr. Whitnall told of the various means by which persons might be identified. There were photographs, the features of the individuals, and other outstanding characteristics, but none were as certain as the finger markings.

For a full hour the speaker told of the types of finger prints, of the various means employed by experts in distinguishing between them, and the seeming similarity that exists in the web-like structures at the finger tips. Dr. Whitnall particularly emphasized that the shape of the lines were formed before birth and remained in unchanged shape until the skin had totally decomposed after death. The prints of the foot are in every way as much a means of identification as those of the hand, the doctor stated.

The trade mark carried by every one at the end of his fingers is proving not only valuable in the pursuit and location of criminals, but can also be used on passports, in the recognition of persons killed or injured in accidents, and even in signing cheques, for the finger print is a signature which cannot be forged in any way.

Rev. S. B. Snow, of the Church of the Messiah, presided, and a well-sized audience gave Dr. Whitnall a most cordial reception. As is the custom at all forum meetings, the audience was permitted to ask questions of the speaker, and these were all speedily disposed of by Dr. Whitnall.

A THING ACCUSED

The automobile has been blamed for much. Accused of corrupting the manners and tempers of the American people it spitefully waxes fat with comfort and luxury. But while it may stupidly ignore the choice of oaths of two score languages, it must bitterly resent the statements of Mr. Ramiro De Maezter. The automobile, mirabile dictu, has caused the alarming decadence of French literature. When Zola, Daudet, Flaubert, and Maupassant went out, the evil-smelling horseless carriage came in. Since the hectic days of the Paris-Madrid races Frenchmen have been too busy driving and repairing their machines—have smeared their fingers too much with grease—to cultivate the fine arts of Moliere and Racine.

Nor is this all. "People are too busy in these days to make love . . . to write billets-doux." And the automobile is of course to blame. The loss of these dainty confessions of literature is truly tragic. Yet the smiling scholar may smile amidst the grime of a blow-out, to thank his otherwise cursed machine for preventing the literary effusions of future Pamelas. —Harvard Crimson.

SOCCER SQUAD IN FAST WORKOUT

Coach Confident of Outcome of Next Saturday's Game

Saturday afternoon on the campus the McGill soccer squad under captain Seamon and coach Schaffer had one of the best workouts they have had this year. Though many of the men are not yet in good condition they have improved greatly since the last practice and Coach Schaffer feels confident of the outcome of next Saturday's game with Belle Isle. The forwards are fast, but silk backfield needs strengthening; however, if they continue to improve as they have so far there is little need for worry on that score. In all those were some twenty players out for the hour and a half practice, and of these several were new comers of great promise. Among the new men Scott, Davidson, and Granda showed up particularly well.

Courses of Coming Season to Be Outlined

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 7th, at 8 p. m. the McGill unit of the C. O. T. C. will inaugurate its activities for the coming season. It is expected that it will be a representative gathering of all former members as well as those who are interested in the unit.

The speakers secured for the meeting including Col. R. R. Thompson, commanding officer, Col. Bovey, Major Forbes, and Major Jenkins, adjutant of the unit.

During the evening the various courses offered by the C. O. T. C. will be explained, including those leading to "A" lieutenant's certificate and "B" captain's certificate in the infantry, cavalry and artillery. There will also be a medical course offered as well as a special air force division. The plans for week-end trips will be outlined, and should not fail to interest those who contemplate skinning up. Spoons and cups will again be awarded for proficiency in rifle and revolver shooting.

With the exception of the medical course, which is only open to students in medicine, and the cavalry division restricted to those who have some knowledge of horses, the units are open to the entire student body, and it is hoped that all members and prospective members, together with as many new recruits as possible will be on hand.

The standard maintained by the McGill C. O. T. C. has always been exacting, the coming season will even surpassingly high and the unit hopes that pass past years.

Free smokes will be provided by the committee.

Young Mr. Wiggleswade had come to "ask father."

Now father was a hard-headed business man who had made his way up in the world, and Wiggleswade was rather doubtful as to whether he would give his consent to an alliance with his daughter.

"Sir," he began nervously. "I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter in marriage."

"Ho, have you?" asked father truculently. "Well, how much do you earn?"

"Five thousand a year, but—" replied the young man, when he was interrupted.

"Ho, well, I see no objection—" "But—but," went on Wiggleswade more nervously than ever, "the trouble is that I only receive three hundred of it"

EVENT NO. 18—ONE MILE

RELAY.

Mrs. Hammitt had just engaged a new cook. She thought herself very lucky to have secured such a treasure and she only had one misgiving about the matter. Bridget was not at all bad looking, and she feared the young man would always be hanging round.

"Now, remember," Mrs. Hammitt said to her, the first morning after breakfast, "no followers are allowed in the kitchen. My last cook had to leave for not keeping to that rule." A few days later the mistress went to the culinary department on a tour of inspection. She opened the door of a large cupboard and, to her great surprise, found a soldier standing there. She turned an accusing eye on Bridget.

"What's the meaning of this?" she asked angrily.

"I dunno," promptly replied Bridget; "he must have been left there by the last cook."

TO KILL SCHOOL SPIRIT

The program of the meeting of the New Mexico State Dental Society, held recently in Albuquerque, contained an excellent article entitled "Ten Ways to Kill an Organization." By changing the wording in a few places the article is well adapted to college spirit, and might well be entitled "Ten Ways to Kill School Spirit."

1. Don't get into activities.
2. If you do come, come late.
3. If the weather doesn't suit, don't think of coming.

4. Find fault with the officers or committees in their work.

5. Never accept an office on the basis that it is easier to suggest than to do things.

6. Nevertheless, get dissatisfied if you are not appointed on a committee; but if you are, don't attend the committee meetings.

7. If asked by an officer to give an opinion regarding some important matter, tell him that you have nothing to say; and after the meeting tell everybody how the matter should have been handled.

8. Do nothing that is not absolutely necessary, but when other students roll up their sleeves and willingly and unselfishly make things hum, complain that the school is run by a clique.

9. Put off your engagement in school affairs as long as possible, or don't get in at all.

10. Don't bother about new students. Let George do it. —New Mexico Lobo.

INSIDE DOPE

"Well, all right," grumbled the rum-runner. "I'll swap. But you gotta give me two cases of Scotch for one case of rye."

"You're a robber!" howled the Federal agent. Nevertheless, the trade was consummated.

Whereupon the Federal agent wired his chief that he had exchanged shots with the enemy.
